Dear Ms. Tran Thi,

I am pleased to inform that you have been admitted to Ghent University for:

Name of the programme:	Master of Science in Aquaculture
Name of the Faculty:	Faculty of Bioscience Engineering
Date decision Faculty Board:	16 April 2014
Academic Year:	2014-2015

On the basis of your diploma “Aquaculture (Advanced Program)” (2014, Can Tho University, Vietnam).

This offer of admission is made only for the academic year noted above. Students who do not enrol before the start of the academic year from which admission is granted will forfeit their admission. To avoid this, a written request for deferral must be submitted to the International Admission Office. The Rector makes final approval for the requested deferral.

Each student must comply with University regulations, which are available online three months before the start of the academic year, as well as the requirements specific to programme that you been admitted to. Details on the schedule of classes and course materials will be provided to you at the Faculty after you have been enrolled.

The International Admission Office does not offer a scholarship along with this letter. The prospective is responsible for obtaining sufficient financial means of support for the duration of the studies.

The amount of enrolment fee depends on nationality and the type of programme that you have been admitted into. A list is available online at the latest two months before start of the academic year. The fee cannot be paid in advance. Upon your enrolment, you will be handed a bank transfer form.

To enrol at Ghent University, you must personally go to the International Admission Office, Student Administration Department (Sint-Pietersnieuwstraat 33, 9000 Gent). You need to bring the following documents:

- this letter of admission,
- your international passport or a valid identity card,
- the legalised copy of your diploma and transcript of records, legalised according to the regulations applicable to the country where the diploma was obtained. More information can be found on the following link : http://diplomatie.belgium.be/en/services/legalisation_of_documents/

If these documents are not submitted at the moment of enrolment, enrolment may be refused.

Information about opening hours and days can be consulted on <http://www.ugent.be/csa>

Enclosed you can find a brochure "Preparing for your studies at Ghent University" and a brochure on required "Insurances". Questions related to admissions should be directed to the Student Administration Department by sending an email to admission@UGent.be. Your university identification number is 0039108. Please keep this number in a safe place and use it in all further communication with the University. For any question related to the programme, please contact the programme coordinator msc.aquaculture@UGent.be.

Welcome to Ghent University. We wish you well as you pursue your studies.

Yours Sincerely,

Prof. dr. A. De Paepe
Vice-Chancellor

cc. Prof. dr. ir. G. Van Huylenbroeck, Dean of the Faculty of Bioscience Engineering
